EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Today, healthcare is a complex matrix of systems — multiple investigations, imaging, diagnosis and treatment options that may take you into the most convoluted corridors of a hospital. The accuracy of diagnosis and the speed of therapy notwithstanding, it is not an experience that most would like to remember. The rapid growth of this domain has changed its identity from a service to an industry. Healthcare costs are known to push people into poverty. The frontrunners of health are no longer doctors, but doyens of the industry who influence the policies of health in India. With a Compound annual growth rate of 20 percent, this is the industry of choice for venture capitalists, software firms and entrepreneurs. The purity of medicine has been replaced by profits. The cost of care has risen correspondingly. Healthcare is too cluttered to be a care-giving entity.

Human clutter was held responsible for the rapid transmission of the COVID-19 virus. Reducing human density was the mantra behind social distancing, quarantine and lockdowns. If decluttering was the way to prevent the spread, cutting the clutter in the core of healthcare could be just as beneficial. — Dr. Sunil Chandy and Dr. George Chandy in The New Indian Express

Gamers continue to play in flooded internet cafe

Cainta: A group of hardcore video gamers in the Philippines recently made international news headlines for continuing to play their favorite video game despite being in waist-deep flood waters from a typhoon.

Surreal footage showing the young video game enthusiasts simply ignoring the rising water level was captured last Thursday, at an internet cafe in the town of Cainta in Rizal, which had been heavily battered by typhoon Ying-fa. Despite being half-submerged in muddy flood water and a very real risk of being electrocuted, the kids appear glued to their monitors, ready to engage in multiplayer matches. It was only when the owner of the cafe realized the danger they were in, the computers were shut down and the gamers finally left.

Luckily, all of the electricity cables in the shop were above the water level and the power sockets were located up high, as is common in areas prone to flooding, or else this extreme passion for video games could have ended in a tragedy.

The magical Dragon's Eye Lake of Japan

Tokyo: Kagami Numa is a mythical Japanese lake that turns into a giant eye every spring, during the thawing process, hence its nickname, Dragon's Eye Lake.

Located near the summit of Mount Hachimantai in north-eastern Japan, in the middle of a dense forest, Kagami Numa doesn't look much different than the many other volcanic lakes in the area, most of the year. But for about a week – ate May to early June – it turns into a giant blue eye that inspired its intriguing nickname, Dragon's Eye Lake.

The unique appearance of the circular lake during this one week has inspired a legend of two dragons in love that chose this body of water as their meeting spot.

KRS Dam and the controversy

Sir,

Following the controversy about the safety of KRS Dam, I checked the Khadakwasla Dam on Mutha river, 21 kms from the city of Pune built in 1869.

This Dam burst in the year 1961, July 12, 7.30 am due to the forces generated by three times the quantity of water gushing in from upstream. After 92 years. It was built with mortar. Like KRS, I guess.

The KRS Dam was built in 1932 and as of today it is only 89 years and the water storage is well-regulated unlike the Khadakwasla Dam (also known as Panshet Dam).

KNOWING HEART FAILURE
The term "heart failure" can be frightening. It doesn't mean the heart has failed or stopped working. It means the heart can't pump enough blood to meet the body's needs. Heart failure can result due to coronary heart disease, heart attack, heart defects by birth, valvular heart disease, cardiomyopathies, obesity, diabetes, chemotherapy, tobacco, and alcohol. Heart failure can be of two types, Heart failure with reduced pump function (Ejection fraction) and Heart failure with preserved pump function (Ejection fraction). Symptoms of heart failure include shortness of breath, feeling tired, swelling around ankles, legs, and abdomen, weight gain, dizziness, rapid/ irregular heartbeat, dry/ hacking cough, loss of appetite. Certain blood tests, ECG, Echocardiogram, angiogram, MRI, PET scan may be required to identify the cause of heart failure.
Early diagnosis and treatment are vital for long-term survival. Treatment in the early stages involves medications, salt, and water restriction, following a healthy lifestyle, and regular follow-up. End-stage heart failure requires advanced treatment like heart surgeries, transplant, and ventricular assist devices. So early diagnosis and start of treatment can halt the progress of the disease and help patients live a better life.

Museum of Democracy to be set up in Mysuru

DPR sought for SVEEP Museum

State Chief Electoral Officer Sanjiv Kumar watering a plant to mark the inauguration of a stakeholder consultation workshop at Zilla Panchayat (ZP) Auditorium in city on Thursday. Others seen are DC Dr. Bagadi Gautham, SP R. Chethan, MCC Commissioner G. Lakshmikantha Reddy, ZP CEO A.M. Yogesh and GRAAM Executive Director Dr. Basavaraju R. Shreshta.

Mysuru, July 31 (MK&BCT)- The Election Commission of India has proposed to set up a Systematic Voters Education and Electoral Participation (SVEEP) Museum and a Capacity Building Centre in Mysuru. The Museum will be the one of its kind on democracy and elections in the country, egging on people to vote.

This was disclosed by State Chief Electoral Officer Sanjiv Kumar on Thursday while he chaired a stakeholder consultation workshop at Zilla Panchayat (ZP) Auditorium in city.

Notably, the Mysore Maharajas instituted the Representative Assembly in Mysore way back in 1881 which is considered the first democratic legislative institution in modern India. In addition, the Mysore Paints and Varnish Limited (MPVL) was established in Mysore in 1937 by Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar. It is the only manufacturer of indelible ink used to mark the fingers of voters during elections.

Explaining the concept of the Museum, Sanjiv Kumar said that Mysuru was the ideal place for the Museum of Democracy as the city has a reputation of being a tourist destination that sees tourist footfalls of more than 40 lakh a year. "With illiteracy levels still high, it is necessary to reach out to the masses and create greater public awareness that every vote counts. We want to improve both urban and rural voter turnout from the present dismal state. The Museum and the Capacity Building Centre would be catalysts for high voter turnout," he said.

GRAAM to submit report

Directing officials of the Grassroots Research and Advocacy Movement (GRAAM), an NGO, to submit the Detailed Project Report (DPR) by Aug. 15, he said, "Mysuru is a Heritage City with a number of attractions that attract both domestic and international tourists. No tourist will visit a city just to see one museum and we hope that the SVEEP Museum will create awareness and educate people about democracy, elections and the significance of exercising franchise without fail."

"We intend to make democracy more participative. Already Mysuru has the distinction of achieving participatory governance and local representation even before India got its independence. Funds will not be a constraint for the project but GRAAM must present the proposal on how the Museum and the Capacity Building Centre will be self-sustainable without requiring funding for maintenance and operation," he said.

Dr. Basavaraju R Shreshta, Executive Director, GRAAM, said the concept calls for extensive consultations with all stakeholders including elected representatives to elicit ideas. He sought time till Aug. 30 to submit the DPR.

Deputy Commissioner (DC) Dr. Bagadi Gautham welcomed the idea of establishing a world-class vibrant Democracy Museum and Capacity Building Centre to propagate stronger democratic values and ethical electoral practices. "It is a golden opportunity for Mysuru to provide a model exhibition and structure for such an institution," he opined.

Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Commissioner G. Lakshmikantha Reddy, Mysuru ZP Chief Executive Officer (CEO) A.M. Yogesh, Superintendent of Police (SP) R. Chethan and Additional DC Manjunatha Swamy, representatives from Museums, Tourism Department and others were present.

NDA's labour laws detrimental to workers' interest, alleges KPCC Working President Dhruvanarayan

Mysuru, July 31 (RKB) - The anti-labour policies of Government of India headed by Prime Minister Narendra Modi were detrimental to the interest of workers, said KPCC Working President and former MP R. Dhruvanarayan.

He was speaking at a function organised in connection with the inauguration of District Labourers' Conference, installation of H.K. Manjunath as new District President of KPCC Labour Cell, State Executive Committee meeting and distribution of labour card here on Wednesday.

The former MP said that the previous Congress Government protected workers interest and nationalised private-owned companies. But the BJP-led NDA Government privatised profit-making Public Sector Undertakings (PSUs) and neglected workers interest by diluting labour laws. Job security cannot be ensured for workers if the PSUs were privatised. Prime Minister Narendra Modi has exhibited his love for big industrialists by privatising profit-making PSUs. Development was possible if both agriculture and industry are together. More jobs could be created if more number of Public-Sector Undertakings (PSUs) are established.

He said labourers of Mysuru have plenty of problems like less wages and salary. Understanding this, KPCC Labour Cell has been asked to prepare a list of problems of workers and to respond to it.

KPCC Labour Cell State President Puttaswamy Gowda said PM Modi had promised to create 2 crore jobs every year; bring back Rs. 15,000 crore money stashed by Congress leader in Swiss Bank, alleviation of poverty, elimination of corruption and slash in fuel prices.

But the people were facing problems as about 14 lakh factories have been closed, 18 crore people have lost jobs and 20 crore people have gone beyond Below Poverty Line (BPL) in the country during the BJP rule, he said and added that the Ministers were looting money even in bed and vaccine purchases during Corona crisis, Puttaswamy said and alleged that a woman Minister had made money even in the purchase of eggs meant to be distributed among children.

Congress District President Dr. B.J. Vijaykumar, former MLA Kalale Keshavamurthy, KPCC Labour Cell Vice-President Harinigowda, General Secretary Mavinahalli Ravi and others were present.

ILLEGAL MINING AROUND KRS DAM

Sumalatha meets Home Minister; seeks CBI probe

New Delhi, July 31 (BCT)- Mandya MP Sumalatha Ambarish, who has repeatedly raised the issue of rampant illegal mining around the Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam that has threatened the safety of the Dam, yesterday met Union Home Minister Amit Shah in New Delhi. She pressed for a CBI probe into the illegal quarrying and mining around the Reservoir.

Submitting a memorandum to the Home Minister, the Mandya MP said that illegal mining of stones was being carried out in the Dam vicinity and the activities are being blessed by local politicians who have a huge stake in the mining industry with many of them being unlicensed.

Local residents, environmental groups and villagers are being bullied and threatened by people who have influence and officers have turned a blind eye towards the illegality.

"Mining is rampant, uninterrupted despite a Supreme Court observation regarding structural damage to the KRS Dam on account of heavy use of high-intensity explosives to cut the stone. Due to the mining and quarrying activities with politician-criminal-official nexus, cases are not registered and fines for violations are not levied. As a result, the safety of the Dam, a lifeline of people of South Karnataka and even Tamil Nadu, is threatened," Sumalatha noted.

She said there was an impending threat of breach of the Dam and its structure because of the blasting and consequent tremors. Apart from constant tremors, loud sound and house walls cracking due to the impact, illegal mining activity has caused air and water pollution, environmental hazards to human habitations, including repeated miscarriages and breathing difficulties, Sumalatha stated in her memorandum.

She also said there was a threat to animal life, including indigenous and endangered species at Ranganathittu Bird Sanctuary, apart from damage to water sources. She urged the Home Minister Shah to direct a central agency such as the CBI to investigate the rampant mining in the region and help save the lives of people, ensure the safety of the Dam and also give a chance for the environment to thrive.

KSRTC luxury buses to transport vegetables and fruits

Bengaluru, July 31- In a bid to augment revenues and to help the horticulture farmers take their produce faster to markets, the KSRTC will soon deploy its fleet of Air Conditioned (AC) buses for the purpose. The KSRTC, which is reeling under losses due to COVID-19 pandemic, is looking at newer avenues for revenue generation. Now it has planned to transport vegetables and fruits as part of its value added services.

KSRTC MD Shivayogi Kalasad said that old air conditioned buses will be used for transporting vegetables and fruits for one month on an experimental basis. This is being done to augment income which has hit rock-bottom due to COVID pandemic.

In the first phase, the KSRTC will deploy AC buses at Chikkaballapur, Kolar, Hospet, Bengaluru and other surrounding places.

Reiterating that only old AC buses will be used for the service, Kalasad said that the fruits and vegetables transported from various places will be offloaded at Bengaluru's K.R. Market and Kalasipalya. Apart from helping the farmers, the service will fetch revenue to KSRTC, he added.

Feeding the ever-hungry news-hawks

[Published on 9.5.1978]

Now the dance. War dance. Thandava Nrithya. Sanjay is in jail having a taste of the medicine which he allegedly administered to many while he was the extra-constitutional power-centre during those Emergency Days.

I was lucky. I was at large, free as a butterfly fluttering delightfully in the beautiful garden of freedom on a bright summer's day. I am sure out of 650 million people of our country there are many plucky ones like me. In fact, I have always had a soft corner for Sanjay for two reasons. First, he bears a name taken from our famous epic. Forget the actor who assumed the same name. The actor, in any case, is no success.

The other reason is that Sanjay attempted what even mighty Gods could not achieve — calling halt to the creative process of nature. Well, perhaps Gods were galled at his audacity. Hence this retribution.

All said and done, in the Indian political scene, after that iconoclast, tea-drinking tiger, Krishna Menon, it was Sanjay who evoked reader's interest. Those days every news item relating to Krishna Menon used to be lapped up by the readers instantaneously. So also now. The name Sanjay spells reading-pleasure to all, in a manner of speaking. I think people love to know more and more about people whom they either hate dearly or love passionately. Sanjay is now feeding this human urge with great success if not with self-satisfaction.

But then just as you cannot keep a good man down, you cannot keep a bad man down either — if at all Sanjay is bad, that is. So Sanjay streaks along the country not physically, like during the Emergency Days, but making news, feeding the ever-hungry news-hawks.

I have read that Julius Caesar was hunting for the head of Pompey, his rival, who had fled from Gaul to Egypt. Caesar ordered for a ship and began his voyage to chase and capture his enemy. On the high-seas there was a storm and the boatman feared a ship-wreck and told Caesar so. Caesar, cool as a cucumber, told the boatman: Fear not. You are carrying Rome and its destiny. Rest was history. It was the same Caesar who latter thundered: Rome? I am Rome. Could this happen to Sanjay? — PUCK

Mini Shah Commission

[Published on 17.5.1978]

The setting-up of Justice Shah Commission did rouse lot of interest in a lot of people who enjoy muck-raking and scandals. Many thought it would show tonnes of skeletons in the Indira Government's cupboards and untold stories would come to light. After more than a year and tonnes of verbiage on which we were all fed through the media of Press, Radio, TV and what have you, people are losing interest. Perhaps they got more than they expected or they did not get enough of sensations out of the Commission's sittings.

Now the only focal point of interest is Indira Gandhi. Not even Sanjay, who is cooling his heels in the jail in connection with another case. I have not had any interest in the details of Shah Commission hearings. Since I was a lawyer I know how lawyers go rambling at a tangent and how the presiding officers strain themselves to impress that they are impartial.

In our own city, for some time now, a mini-Shah Commission, known by a heady nomenclature, Shah Commission Inquiring Authority (I detest the very dictatorial sounding name 'Authority') presided over by our most genial and amiable Divisional Commissioner Mr. Jayakumar Anagol, has been going on. I could not attend any of its sittings all these days and finally I made it last Monday only to be disappointed. As I mentioned earlier, the Authority and lawyers were immersed in deep discussion (or was it argument) about summoning of witnesses and soon it was time for recess. I said enough and left.

Now the impressions. A horse-shoe teak-table at the head of which is a table one usually sees in the office of a big government official. Sunk in a teak-revolving chair is the 'Authority' — an elderly, unassuming small figure of Mr. Jayakumar Anagol. The 'Authority' does not bark orders or bully others. The words that come out of Mr. Anagol are weighed and the voice is measured. He is very persuasive for an 'Authority'. I liked the man not his labour for whatever worth it is.— PUCK

Indira, a political force

[Published on 24.5.1978]

After March 1977 elections, I dismissed Indira Gandhi as a spent force. Later, with the setting-up of Shah Commission and the revelations of 'crimes' committed by Indira Gandhi and her 'CAUCUS' I thought the good people of India would reject her once and for all. Nothing of the kind is happening.

Janata Party's contribution for the re-emergence of Congress (I) and Indira Gandhi is not small. In fact she derived her strength only from the Janata which is like a ship with too many captains steering it in all directions on the high seas. Such a ship can never anchor at any shore. So people are jumping into Congress (I) ship which is being steered by one captain, the eternally vigilant Indira Gandhi.

Indira Gandhi's successes can't be compared to the rise of Phoenix from the ashes for she never died. I liken her to an Indian rubber ball. Popping up every time she is bandied around by Janata jugglers. She is also like a ping-pong ball going plop-plop and moving all over the country making herself more lovable. Did you read yesterday's paper? Some headlines on Indira were like this:

1. Action on Indira under ordinary law mooted. 2. Indira will never come back to power. 3. Indira can't rule again, feels Bhushan. 4. Indira can be tried under ordinary law.

Uncertain of their own political future, Janata Party leaders are jealous of Indira's political success. They must talk less and work more or at least stop talking of punishing Indira Gandhi and punish her if they can.

What is all this talk of 'ordinary law' etc. Do they mean there is also an 'extraordinary law' to punish a person for a particular crime? It is all a Ha, Ha, Ha.—PUCK.

NOTE: *In the beginning Abracadabra column did not carry a headline like in later days. For some years it only had a pen name 'PUCK' for its author.—Ed

Ardent fan's suicide

BSY calls on family

Hands over Rs. 5 lakh cash; promises another Rs. 5 lakh soon

Gundlupet, July 31 (SOMG &SSV)- Former CM B.S. Yediyurappa visited Bommalapura village in Gundlupet taluk of Chamarajanagar district yesterday where a BJP worker and an ardent fan had committed suicide following his resignation from the post of CM on July 26.

Ravi (35) committed suicide as he was upset over Yediyurappa's resignation. On the same day, BSY had condoled Ravi's death and had appealed to his supporters not to take extreme steps as ups and downs are quite common in politics.

Accompanied by his son and State BJP Vice-President B.Y. Vijayendra, BSY's chopper landed at Devaraja Urs Sports Ground in Gundlupet town and MLA C.S. Niranjankumar received him. Later BSY met Ravi's mother, Devamma and his sister, and consoled them. He also handed over Rs.5 lakh cash to the family and promised another Rs. 5 lakh which must be deposited in a bank and the family could use interest amount.

Talking to reporters, BSY said he will visit every district every week after Gowri-Ganesha fest to strengthen BJP as his aim was to bring back the party to power by winning 130 to 135 seats.

The former CM ruled out meddling in the new Cabinet headed by Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and said it was left to the latter to decide. "Bommai is free and independent to pick his team members. None should doubt my intervention in governance," he added.

PM Modi must speak up,

urges former Minister BKC

Mysuru, July 31 (RKB&SSV)- Former Minister Prof. B.K. Chandrashekar (BKC) has accused Prime Minister Narendra Modi of not addressing a single press conference in the last seven years only to conceal failures of his Government.

Addressing a news conference at Jaladarshini Guest House here yesterday, he said the PM was afraid to face the media because of which he has not addressed a single press conference since 2014. It was high time that Modi must break the silence to talk on Pegasus spying.

The President of France has already ordered a probe in this regard and the PM of Israel has sought a report, he added.

Prof. Chandrashekar said at a time when the vaccines were not available, the PM wanted to have his picture on the vaccination certificate. Only 5.50 percent of country's population had been vaccinated. With this speed, it was not possible to vaccinate the entire population by December 2021, he claimed.

He said everything will not become right just because senior BJP leader Basavaraj Bommai has become the CM. An upright officer must be posted to Finance Department, he said. KPCC Spokesperson H.A. Venkatesh, former MLA M.K. Somashekar and others were present.

Buntings, flexes welcome Congress leaders

Mysuru, July 31 (MTY&SSV)- The local Congress party workers had decorated the main roads and important Circles with banners, buntings and flexes of their leaders. The flexes were found more at Party Office, Dasappa Circle, JLB Road and on the way to Silent Shores Resort & Spa in Hootagalli, where the day-long Division-level meeting of Congress leaders is being held.

The enthusiastic workers took out a bike rally on the main thoroughfares of the city. Today's Divisional meet is attended by MPs, MLAs, former legislators, defeated MLA candidates, Chairmen of various Units of party and important office-bearers of four districts. It is said to be a brain-storming session mainly aimed at preparing rank and file of Congress for the coming Zilla Panchayat and Taluk Panchayat polls and the crucial 2023 Assembly polls.

In-camera meeting

This meeting is held closed door and open only for invitees. The media persons were sent out of the meeting hall after taking the group photo and video of leaders on the dais.

Meanwhile, Siddharamaiah arrived at Mandakalli Airport and was received by Varuna MLA Dr.Yathindra Siddharamaiah, HD Kote MLA Anil Chikkamadu and others. Then, he drove straight to the meeting venue. The meeting was on when we went to the Press at 2 pm.

COVID spike: No let up in checking at Kerala borders

Mysuru, July 31 (RK&SSV)- There has been no let up in checking at two check-posts — Bavali and Udbur both in H.D. Kote taluk — situated on Karnataka-Kerala border to have a tight vigil on people entering the State.

Following directions from Chief Minister Basavaraja Bommai, the District Administration has stepped up watch on people coming from Kerala side in view of over 20,000 Corona positive cases being reported daily in the God's Own Country since last one week indicating third wave of COVID-19 pandemic.

A Police Officer of Sub-Inspector rank has been deployed at Bavali check-post who is assisted by four Police Constables. Besides, Forest Department personnel and medical staff are deployed at both the check-posts to check every person.

Taluk Health Officer Dr. Ravikumar told SOM that those without negative report of RT-PCR test got done 72 hours before and not taken single dose, are sent back. Besides, those who test positive in Rapid Antigen Test (RAT) are not allowed to enter Karnataka.

DC, SP visit check-posts

Meanwhile, Deputy Commissioner (DC) Dr. Bagadi Gautham and Superintendent of Police (SP) R. Chethan visited Bavali check-post to take stock of the situation. They also reviewed the functioning of both check-posts and instructed the medical staff, Cops and Forest personnel not to allow anyone inside Karnataka without examining RT-PCR test report.

After RT-PCR test, names, telephone numbers and contact details of persons were collected to inform about the test results which may take one or two days.

Acid test for city as tender coconut is in short supply

By Rajkumar Bhavasar

If you are thirsty to the core or want to get relief from excessive body heat and wondering why you are unable to find your favourite tender coconut water by the roadside, blame it on short supply as all the tender coconut produced in the Mysuru-Mandya-Channapatna belt are being sent to other places and Mysuru is receiving only a part of the stocks.

The usual tender coconut vending places in the city are not dotted with vendors ready to chop the most desired and the healthy nut with a green pile of stocks either in the goods autos or on the ground. At most of the places you only find discarded and rotting coconut shells.

Even if you manage to find a vendor, he will ask you to pay Rs. 40 or even Rs. 50 per nut. Mysuru gets its share of coconuts from villages around the city like Hullahalli, Kadakola, Srirampura, Jayapura, Nagawala and even from Mandya, Maddur, K.R. Pet and Channapatna. But since the last one month, the nuts are in short supply and whatever is produced is being sent to Bengaluru and parts of North Karnataka.

Looks like people have been downing tender coconut down their throats to the maximum after the second wave of the pandemic. The usual spots of tender coconuts like Krishnaraja Boulevard, Agrahara, Chamundipuram, Ballal Circle, near Crawford Hall, Chamarajapuram Railway Bridge, Jockey Quarters, Yadavagiri Circle, Vontikoppal Circle, Mathrumandali Circle have a few vendors but not to their maximum.

Higher the bargain

Some vendors say that the coconut farm owners are bargaining for higher prices. "The demand is more from every region and as such, the farm owners are drifting away to areas where they can make profit. If we want to build stocks, we too must be ready to cough up more money. But if we pay more, naturally we have to pass it on to customers and they refuse to pay more," Rangaswamy, a vendor, told Star of Mysore.

While Maddur and Hunsur are the major suppliers of tender coconuts to Bengaluru, now the nuts are taken from Mysuru belt also and added to the problem is that coconut trees are drying up and dying, drastically cutting production. Mysuru district has 23,000 hectares of coconut farms but there is no dedicated market for either tender coconut or the fully grown nut.

Though there is enough demand for tender coconuts from everywhere, there are many reasons for the lack of supply to the demand. Chiefly, because of the lack of water, the yields have dropped. The coconut trees are being affected by a variety of diseases because of which they are dying off.

Almost 100 to 150 tender coconuts are sold by Dheeraj near Maharaja's College Grounds. Sometimes, these numbers may rise or fall. But on most days, there is a good sale.

Profit margins decline

"But now the supply is not enough. The profit margin has decreased as I pay Rs. 24 per nut and the farms sell them at Rs. 18. Other expenses include plucking the nuts from the tree and I have to pay Rs. 2 per nut and transportation cost to Mysuru is Rs. 2 per nut. I have to sell it at Rs. 30 and even if I increase it by Rs. 5, people go away frowning," he said.

Vendor Thimmanna at Ballal Circle said that there are a few wholesale merchants who take trucks and pluckers to homes of estate owners and they offer Rs. 5 more than what the Rs. 18 we offer per nut. "Owners prefer such deals as there is no risk for them and even the wholesale merchants make a profit by selling the same for Rs. 30. If we buy from them, we have to sell it at Rs. 35 or Rs. 40. But who will buy it for Rs. 40," he asked.

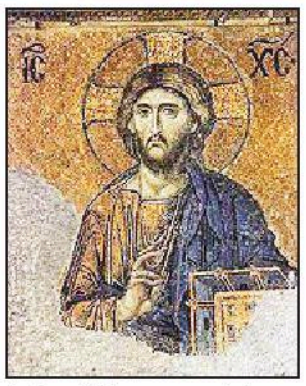
Tender Coconut Market at APMC premises soon

A tender coconut market will be established at APMC premises in Bandipalya soon and a decision has already been taken in this regard, said APMC member Anand. The dedicated market will help the growers get their produce to the yard so that they can directly sell to the vendors.

The building and 2-acre land that had been handed over to APMC State Unit in Bandipalya premises have been withdrawn and the same land will be used to set up a tender coconut market, he added.

WORD OF THE DAY

Hagiography



Pronunciation: hag-ee-AH-gruh-fee.
Meaning: Biography of saints or venerated persons; idealising or idolising biography.
Origin: Like biography and autograph, the word hagiography has to do with the written word. The combining form -graphy comes from Greek graphein, meaning "to write." Hagio- comes from a Greek word that means "saintly" or "holy." This origin is seen in Hagiographa, the Greek designation of the Ketuvim, the third part of the Jewish Scriptures. English's hagiography, though it can refer to biography of actual saints, is these days more often applied to biography that treats ordinary human subjects as if they were saints.
Example: "Music documentaries can veer into hagiography. That's not this story. It goes up and down, with constant left turns and surprises you don't expect." — Edgar Wright, quoted in The Houston Chronicle, 16 June 2021.

THE ODD WORD

Habergeon

Sleeveless mail coat.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

As far as I can see

Meaning: In the way that I understand.
Origin: No one knows for sure what the origin of the idiom 'as far as I can see' is. Its literal meaning is 'the distance I can see unimpeded,' but its idiomatic meaning is quite different. The first recorded use of the word 'see' in reference to the mind or imagination was in the days of Middle English, around the year 1200.
Example: "As far as I can see, he has done nothing to lower our confidence in him."

TOKYO GAMES 2020 (July 23 - August 8)

India women's hockey team wins final Pool A game

Hopes of qualifying for quarter-finals remain intact

Tokyo, July 31 (Agencies)- The India women's hockey team defeated South Africa 4-3 in their final Pool A game here at the Oi Hockey Stadium South Pitch today. As a result of this win, India's hopes of qualifying for the quarter-finals remain intact.

In their five Group Stage matches, India won two and lost three. Rani and girls' fate will now depend on Ireland's game against Great Britain.

The Rani Rampal-led Indian outfit gained a 1-0 lead in the first quarter as Vandana Katariya got her name on the scoring sheet. In the dying minutes of the first quarter, South Africa got the equaliser as Tarryn Glasby scored a goal, bringing the scoreline to 1-1 at the end of the first quarter.

In the second quarter, it was once again Katariya who scored the goal for India and Rampal's side gained a 2-1 lead. However, just like the first quarter, South Africa registered the equaliser in the final moments of the second quarter as Erin Hunter scored the goal.

India restored its lead in the third quarter as Neha scored the goal. Frustrating the Indians, South Africa managed to get the equaliser once more as Glasby scored her second goal of the match. At the end of the third quarter, the scoreline read 3-3.

Katariya was once again the MVP as she registered her third goal of the match in the fourth quarter, giving India a 4-3 lead with 11 minutes still left to play. In the end, India managed to hang on and the side registered a 4-3 win with Katariya stealing the show with her hattrick.

Shuttler Sindhu sails to semis

Tokyo, July 31- Reigning World Champion P.V. Sindhu kept India's hopes of winning a first-ever Olympic Gold in badminton alive as she reached the semifinals of Women's Singles with a fighting straight-game win over World No. 5 Japanese Akane Yamaguchi here yesterday.

The 26-year-old Indian, who won a Silver in the 2016 Rio Olympics, defended brilliantly and rode on her attacking all-round game to outclass the fourth seeded Yamaguchi 21-13 22-20 in a 56-minute quarterfinal clash at the Musashino Forest Plaza here.

She will next face World No. 1 Tai Tzu-Ying of Chinese Taipei in the semifinals today at 3.20 pm (IST).

Indian archery campaign ends as Atanu Das loses in pre-quarters

Tokyo, July 31- India's archery campaign at the Olympics ended without a medal after Atanu Das lost to home favourite Takaharu Furukawa 6-4 in an intense five-setter in the men's individual pre-quarterfinals today.

Das failed to find a 10 in the fifth set and slipped to the red-circle for an 8 that proved costly as Furukawa sealed the issue by one point margin in the decider.

Das was the lone archer in the fray after world number one Deepika Kumari succumbed to a 0-6 rout by eventual gold medallist An San of Korea on Friday.
